RED SOX WHITEWASHED

Fisher and Leonard in a Duel and New York Victors by 1 to 0.

The New Yorks, keeping up their hard playing, shut out the Red Sox yesterday and hopped up to second place, right behind the Detroit, who beat the White Sox again. The latter receded to fourth place. The Washingtons won from the Athletics, and as did the New Yorks, passed the Cleveland team. The Browns beat the Athletics for fifth place.

The thoughtfulness of James Walsh—Jimmy, when he makes a home run—in doing the very thing which justifies the name he was given yesterday's game between the New Yorks and Red Sox from being a tie and won it for the New Yorks. Walsh's home run, he only run, the score was 1 to 0. The Red Sox appeared before the home public for the first time this year. Last year they had such a continuous snap with the New Yorks that the contrast between yesterday's batting and this particular intensity series a year ago was all the greater.

A game such as yesterday's would have been more enjoyable with better weather. It had a lot of mechanical excellence and precision, but the day was so cold and raw that the outfield, which was warmed up on the day before, King and not anthracite, didn't diffuse any heat. Fisher pitched so well that Cole wasn't needed in the game.

With Chance ill and absent, the New Yorks nevertheless gave a good account of themselves. Their fielding was capital. The most capital feat of the capital was done by Roy Hartzell, who made a throw from right in the eighth inning which prevented a run, although the throw was not meritorious as the exceptional judgment shown by Hartzell in playing a smash off the right field wall and so being in a position to make the accurate and saving throw. His judgment and throw picked off Hooper trying to stretch a single into a double and preceded a single by Engle, which would have sent Hooper home.

Truesdale, the new second baseman, handled his fielding chances expertly and was a weak link in the defense. He only grazed the ball in swinging at it, and once didn't do that. The fielding was not of the best, the only error being a low throw by Scott, who otherwise showed a finished quality of workmanship. Speaker took a hit away from Williams with a fine running catch, and the Speaker-Hooper, two-thirds of the $100,000 outfield, pinched flies and spritzed in the pathway of ground balls in keeping with their financial rating. Both Fisher and Dutch Leonard pitched pitching of high grade. With men on bases both were steady and effective and had the support of the fielders and a dark day. Speed was the main defect in the poor field. Fisher's best work was in the seventh and eighth innings, in each of which the Red Sox were out. Speed was the main defect in the poor field. Fisher's best work was in the seventh and eighth innings, in each of which the Red Sox were out.

The duel between Southpaw Dutch and Northpaw Fish went on without hostile carnage until the fourth inning, in which, in the second half, Walsh's home run was won. Walsh's drive hurtled into the left field bleachers. In the same inning Holden and Fisher, who had the ball spitefully, but flied out. There was a two-bagger by Javins in Boston's half, but Javins was run down on the line when Verkes gave him a lead. Fisher did the running and went yards to Javins' strike feet. When Mabel is after you, it's a case of "Don't shoot. I'll come down."

Hard hits by Engle and Lewis were killed in the sixth. Walsh took a wicked throw and Fisher stopped a wicked throw from Lewis. With only one man on base, Fisher's throw was a perfect one. Fisher's throw was a perfect one. Fisher's throw was a perfect one.

The eighth inning furnished a few extra for the record as Hooper led off with a leading smash to right. Fisher, however, as it would be the case, the ball was in the stand. Hartzell was the last man on the scene. The ball was around on the scene. The ball was around on the scene. The ball was around on the scene.

Hanley Victim of Mistaken Identity

JIM HANLEY, the former Manhattan College captain and twirler, seems to be the victim of mistaken identity. Jim signed with Jersey City of the International League, but Secretary John H. Farrell of the National Commission has handed down a ruling that Hanley is the property of the Memphis Club. Hanley now claims that the Memphis club has confused him with J. F. Hanley of this city. President Thomas Fogarty of Jersey City located this Hanley and also the correspondence that passed between him and Memphis. Fogarty says he will appeal to the National Commission for a proper adjustment of the case.

BOTH RUNLESS TILL ELEVENTH

Then Tigers Beat White Sox, Dubuc's Fly Scoring Only Tally.

DETROIT, April 29.—President Ban Johnson said the White Sox defeated the Tigers, 1 to 0, today in an eleven inning struggle, one of the fiercest pitchers' battles ever staged here. The Sox won in the eleventh inning, when Dubuc, who had pitched for more than one hour, pitched a single into the outfield, which was caught by Morarty. Dubuc's fly scored the only tally.

BROWNS KNOCK MITCHELL OUT

Finish Job in One Inning With Double Off Collins.

ST. LOUIS, April 29.—The St. Louis Americans defeated Cleveland today, 8 to 2, by knocking Willie Mitchell out of the box at the beginning of the third inning and clinching the game with a double off Collins. The Browns won in the third inning, when Mitchell was knocked out of the box. The Browns won in the third inning, when Mitchell was knocked out of the box.

HITS AND FIELDS SHARPLY

But Alexander and Phillips Are Too Formidable and Win by 6 to 2 Score.

What near future chances the Giants have of overhauling the Pittsburgh team are being interfered with by bad weather; also by the fact that the Pirates have been winning games. The latter have been fortunate in having few postponements while meeting weak clubs, but are playing a strong game themselves. Yesterday they whacked the Cubs again, while rain kept the Giants idle in Boston. The Brooklyn retracted to third place by losing to the Phillies and the Reds won from the Cardinals and advanced.

The Phillies stopped Brooklyn by a score of 6 to 2 at Ebbets Field yesterday afternoon in the first battle of the season between these clubs. Alexander the Great was too much for the combined relay of Pat Hagan, Frank Allen and Ed Reulbach. Ragan gave Doss's star a two run lead in the second inning.

The day was not missed by Wilbert Robinson's scrappy youngsters, even if the result was a little disappointing. Robbie discovered a fine young pitcher in infield duty. This is none other than Tabasco Kid Elberfeld, who played the short field in the absence of Egan. Dick had to knock off to have some carpenter work done on an ulcerated tooth. His absence was not felt at all, for the fiery young out who was stepping out of the box show about a third of yesterday's toilers were breaking in yesterday afternoon half of Brooklyn's offense and defense.

Elberfeld played a sensational game around his time honored stamping ground. One remarkable shot and throw that took a hit off Magee was the fielding feat of the day. The former New York American idled. He had a perfect game, runs and on every appearance after his first when he fanned, smote Alexander's offering fairly on the trademark.

If a few more of his associates had shown the fire of the redoubtable, there might have been a different story. Brooklyn had plenty of opportunities, but failed to improve on them. The conquered and Alexander's team were clear.

On the other hand Don Carlos Ragan was punished where and when it hurt most. Make Triple Play of Double Squeeze

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—Nothing looks more foolish in baseball than a squeeze play that goes wrong except perhaps a failure of Connie Mack's copyrighted double squeeze. This afternoon Washington effected a triple killing on the world's champion Athletics, thereby breaking up a serious rally and doubtless saving the game in the bargain.

With two runs already in and the expert bunter Jack Barry at bat, McInnis and Strunk both started to race for the plate from third and second bases respectively. Barry's attempted bunt was a sharp line into Gandil's mitt. McInnis, who was almost to the plate, was easily doubled on Gandil's snap throw to Foster. Before Strunk could scramble back to the midway Foster whipped the ball to George McBride for the third out of as many seconds.

REDS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP

Vingling Wins His Second Victory of Series Over Cardinals.

CINCINNATI, April 29.—Cincinnati bunched hits in the seventh inning of Hagerman and the Reds made a clean sweep of the four game series with the Cardinals, the victory being 5 to 0. Vingling twirled for Cincinnati and achieved his second victory of the series.

INDIANS BEATEN AT LAST.

Pretense Scores Only Run of Game for Toronto in Fifth.

NEWARK, April 29.—The Indians met their last day of the season today at the hands of the Toronto team. The score was 1 to 0. In the fifth inning, Pretense scored the only run of the game for Toronto.

COLUMBIA BUNCHES HITS IN BIG INNING

Combination of Long and Short Hits, Sacrifices and Errors Is Stevens' Undoing.

SHEA SPENDS QUEER DAY

Injured in Mix With Freshman at Noon, He Pitches Star Game in Afternoon.

Columbia defeated Stevens yesterday afternoon on South Field by a score of 8 to 1 through hard hitting in the fifth inning coupled with costly errors by First Baseman Farris during the slugging bee. The Blue and White nine hit Pitcher Beloff with such telling force that eight hits aggregated sixteen bases. Eddie Shea held the Jerseys to five singles and suppressed their confidence further by fanning ten men.

Page tallied the first run in the fourth by bunting out a triple, which Friedman followed up with a sacrifice fly. In the fifth inning Shea was safe when Farris dropped a throw. Shea tried to sacrifice, but Farris bobbled the ball, rolling to the grand stand and Roosevelt scoring. Charlie Hann uncorked a terrific drive to center field for a home run and Buncke followed with an infield single. Friedman singled to center. Carey fumbled the ball and Friedman reached third, while Buncke scored. Gretch tripped, scoring his captain.

Shea's work was the bright feature of the game, despite an injury to the back of his head. At noon Eddie was scouting with several of his classmates for a fresh pair of caps for the sophomore dinner last night. They decided to nail Joe Shimmion, the Persian wrestler, who won his bout in the interclass class greens last winter. Shimmion resisted and in the melee that followed Shea got a belt over the back of the head and Shimmion suffered a dislocated shoulder. Both went to the infirmary. Shea got his head plastered and then returned to the square with Stevens. He did the score:

FRANK CHANCE ILL; IMPROVES.

Leaves Room and Hopes to Resume Charge To-day.

Manager Frank L. Chance of the New York Americans missed yesterday's victory of his force over the Red Sox. While Capt. Peckinpaugh was trimming Boston out of the exciting 1 to 0 game the leader of the New Yorks was in his bed at the Colonial Hotel, suffering from a severe attack of illness. Chance's condition was much improved last night and he was able to leave his room.

The White Sox have taken a considerable draft win a week ago. They have lost their last five.

Adams and McQuillen are proving a useful pair of mound opponents for the Pirates, and so far as the pitching is concerned, the Pirates have been successful.

When the Red Sox aren't playing exhibition games arranged by Business Manager Hagerman, they will be in the time playing National League teams. Between visits to Baltimore, White Plains, Albany and Baltimore, they will visit New York, Brooklyn, Boston and other way stations.
